

WHAT DO AMERICA'S LEADING... PIGMENT COMPANY, EXECUTIVE TRANSITION SVCS. CO., AND FAMILY OFFICE SERVICES COMPANY HAVE IN COMMON?

(Hint: DAVID N. DEUTSCH & COMPANY)

The sale of a closely-held company is one of the most important events in that company's and its owners' lives.

To succeed, those transactions must be planned thoughtfully and managed expertly. That's why America's leading law firms, wealth managers and other professional service firms refer their most important clients — in a wide variety of industries: business services, niche manufacturing, consumer/retail, media, healthcare and financial services — to David N. Deutsch & Company.

Established in 1993, David N. Deutsch & Company is the strategic financial advisor of leading closely-held companies, their owners and boards. A New York-based firm with a track-record of success in more than 130 assignments over 25 years, managing complex, structured negotiated corporate sales and, equally, serving as long-term strategic financial advisor to its clients (whether they transact or not).

If you want a run-of-the-mill, sell-side "auction", then any investment bank will do. But, if you want a firm that thinks and cares, represents and advises, and adds-value and probability-of-closure then, hint, call David N. Deutsch & Company at 212-980-7800.
